Earthquakes Cause Evacuations

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — A Congolese military court has sentenced 15 minor government officials to prison terms ranging from 4 to 10 years for pocketing $200,000 in public funds.

The officials were accused of embezzling the money over a three-month period while allocating funds in the Bureau of Budget Control and Verification.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Allergies Best Treated By Specialists in Field

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Recently, after getting my annual flu shot, I broke out all over with itching red spots that lasted a full week. Is there anything that I, as a heart patient, can do in the future to protect myself against flu? I have heard that repeated bouts of allergy would become successively more severe.

A—Influenza virus vaccine is made by three pharmaceutical companies. All brands contain chicken egg albumin and should be avoided by anyone who is allergic to this substance. The only other protection available to you is to avoid crowds and, if you do develop any form of respiratory illness with fever, go to bed and call your doctor at once.

Q—My doctor says I have an allergy to some kind of food or something I come in contact with. How can I find out the exact cause? Can a person be allergic to other people?

A—Tracking down the cause of an allergy is often a tedious process and is best accomplished by a doctor with special training in this field. Food allergies are identified by systematic elimination of various common foods from your diet for four or five days. Contact allergies are discovered by making patch tests in which a small amount of the suspected offender is applied to the skin and covered by a patch. The reaction, if any, is compared with a plain (control) patch.

The phrase, "I am allergic to Harry," is common—true allergy to another person is not.

Q—My son, 15, is allergic to several kinds of food. I was hoping he would outgrow it. Would shots help him?

A—It is unlikely that your son will outgrow his allergies completely. Some persons, after avoiding the offending food for several years, can tolerate small amounts of it from time to time when they are feeling in the pink. Colds and other infections are likely to intensify existing allergies.

Injections of extracts of pollen have been used to desensitize persons with hay fever but injections of food extracts have not been widely used. Some allergists instead advocate a process of desensitization by eating a minute amount of the offending food daily and very gradually increasing the amount as tolerance develops but this will not work with all victims.

Cities Need of a Junior College

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Education Commissioner A. W. Ford says a community junior college is needed in the Little Rock area if the state is to provide technicians needed by industry.

Ford said Wednesday that the most pressing need for such a college in the state is in Pulaski County.

He said one is needed if the state is to offer training needed by employees in commerce.

Ford said the county has the student body potential and the property tax base to support a first-class institution.

He estimated that up to 2,300 students would be attracted in first year and that the county could support a community college by a tax of two or three mills.

On another matter, Ford said job security for school teachers was needed.

"Security for working people has become a necessity in our modern society," he said.

Copper Strike Is Postponed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Labor leaders have postponed until Monday a 48-hour walkout called at the Anaconda copper mines and smelteries in support of a five-week-old strike at the Kenecott mine southeast of Santiago.

President Eduardo Frei had appealed to the 17,000-member Copper Workers' Union to delay the walkout at Anaconda while the government pressed for a settlement of the strike against the other U.S. company.

Union leaders agreed Tuesday night but said the walkout would go on if the strike is not settled by Monday. The support walkout had been scheduled to start at midnight Tuesday.

Anaconda and Kenecott produce more than 90 per cent of the copper mined in Chile. The Kenecott strike for higher wages has cost Chile an estimated $35 million in lost production.

Heavy Rain Storms Lash 3 States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Severe thunderstorms, with heavy rain, hail and strong winds, swept areas in Texas today and steady rainfall and melting snow caused flooding in parts of the nation's midsection.

Hail reported by the Weather Bureau as 1 1/4 inches in diameter pelted Austin and San Antonio. Southward at Pleasanton hail was reported six inches deep. Winds of 40 to 50 m.p.h. raked the storm belt. Power lines were toppled near Victoria.

More heavy rain doused most of the south-central areas from Illinois into Texas, increasing the threat of floods. Overflows of swollen rivers and streams have been reported in sections of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Missouri and Texas.

A tornado destroyed two homes and damaged eight others at Howland, a small town in northeast Texas, Wednesday. A twister also dipped down at Shreveport, La., and winds up to 75 m.p.h. lashed Walnut Ridge in northeastern Arkansas. Damaging windstorms also swept Fort Worth, Tex.

EDA Plans Spending of 10% Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An Economic Development Administration (EDA) co-ordinator says he will recommend that 10 per cent of federal funds available for economic development be spent in Arkansas.

John H. Opitz of Little Rock, state field co-ordinator for the EDA, will make a tour of the Ozarks region Friday with Eugene P. Foley, assistant secretary of commerce and the department's director of economic development.

Last year Congress appropriated $376 million for use during the current fiscal year in aiding areas with low median incomes and a high level of unemployment.

Foley is scheduled to arrive in Little Rock Friday morning. His aerial tour of the Ozarks region will include stops at Mountain Home, Poteau, Okla., and Conway. Foley's plans are to return to Washington Friday night.

Says Powers Was Quick With Knife

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Melvin Lane Powers has been described as quick with a knife and possessed of a venomous nature — two traits the state hopes may help brand him the slayer of multimillionaire Jacques Mossler.

One witness, Earl G. Martin, said he came once upon Powers untrusting a sharp letter opener into a table.

He said if he had his way, and nobody would find out, he take that knife and jug (stab) and jug and jug him until he was dead.

Martin, a repairman who worked for Powers, said Powers was talking about Mossler, 69. The date, Martin said, was seven months before Mossler was slain in his Key Biscayne apartment, June 30, 1964. The victim died after being bludgeoned and then stabbed 39 times with a sharp, slender instrument.

Powers' trial with his aunt, Candace Mossler, widow of the slain victim, resumes today. The state said it plans to offer further testimony about an alleged love affair between aunt and nephew. State Atty. Richard Gerstein said in court Wednesday that this "underlies the entire case."

Powers, 29, and his aunt, who gives her age as 39, are accused of plotting the slaying of her husband while engaged in a torrid love affair. The state says Powers was the actual killer, with his aunt's connivance.

Court attendants found it necessary to close the ceiling-high metal doors outside Circuit Judge George Schulz' sixth-floor Dade County courtroom against the curious. The courtroom seats only 150 spectators, and more than twice that many seek admission daily.

In early testimony Wednesday several witnesses from Houston, Tex., home town of Powers and base of the Mossler financial empire, said Powers had passed his aunt Candace as his wife.

The witnesses had been friends or prospective customers at Powers' trailer sales firm in the Houston area. They said he had displayed to them snapshots of the attractive Mrs. Mossler and described her as his wife some months before her marriage to Mossler ended with his violent death.

One witness, Jesse B. Young, a policeman in the Houston area, said he ran into Mrs. Mossler with Powers.

"He introduced me to her as his wife, Mrs. Powers — she said, 'Glad to meet you, how are you,' something like that, Young said.

Another witness was George Nize, who rented an apartment to Powers in Houston, and who commented when the nephew displayed his aunt's photograph as the wife of his wife.

"I said she looked kind of old. He said 'When you are in love, age means no difference,' and of course I agreed."

Mrs. Mossler is sensitive about her age, which the state thinks is 47. She had to endure a ripple of laughter from courtroom spectators. She didn't appear to change expression, however.

The state wound up the 20th day since the trial began Jan. 18 with Martin on the witness stand.

Martin testified that he went to work at Powers' trailer sales firm in August 1963. He said Mrs. Mossler used to drop by in a Lincoln Continental. "She sat with Mr. Powers out there in Lincoln, kissing and hugging," Martin said.

Martin testified that in November 1963, Powers asked him if he liked to make some money by killing Mossler.

"I said, 'No sir, get yourself another boy,' the witness went on. "I said 'What would Mrs. Mossler say.' He said she knew about it."

It was about this time, Martin said, that Powers made his remarks about wanting to jug Mossler — the witness described "jugging" or "jigging," and he used the terms interchangeably, as stabbing.

By December 1963, Martin said he was fed up with his job, because he never was paid on time. He testified he quit and got into an argument with Powers over his back pay.

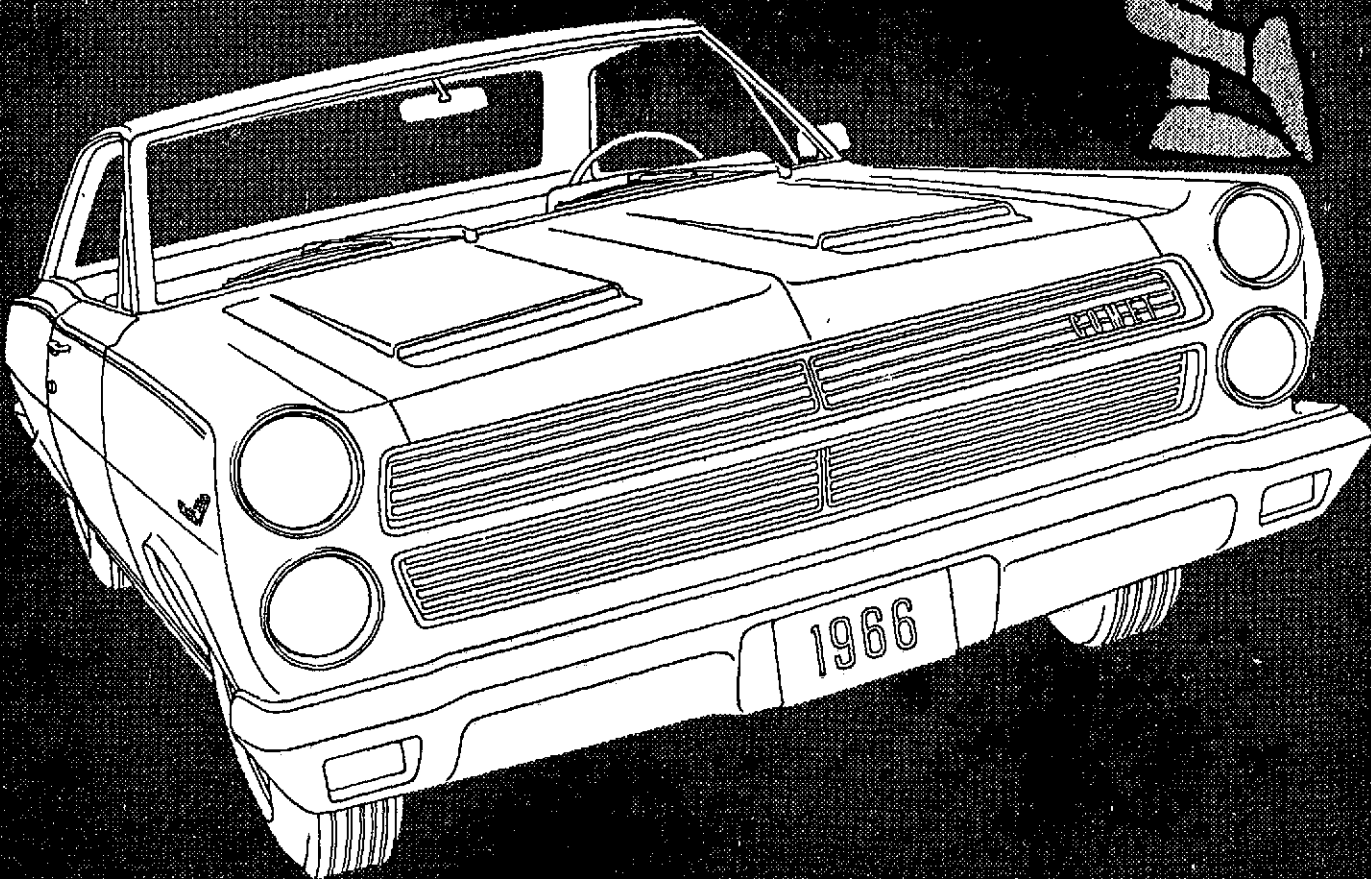

"He opened a black briefcase," the witness continued, "and pulled out a dirk (dick or knife). He had the knife out trying to jig me in the back when I wasn't looking. He says he's going to kill a black nigger because the nigger's no good."

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Beach party movies are out with the "in" crowd of teen-agers. Protests pictures are in.

This is the word from American International, caterers to the teen-age trade in films. The firm announced its product for the coming year and — glee! — no beach pictures.

American International is the pioneering company that built its millions on bountiful babes twisting on the sands of Santa Monica. Such films are passe, but there is no need for those girls to turn in their bikinis. They will still be exposing acres of skin, but in new locales.

The source for this intelligence is Louis M. Heyward, an earnest, forthright New Yorker who bears the title of director of motion picture and television development for American International. A veteran of radio and television, he qualifies for his assignment by having served three years as producer of the Dick Clark show and by having a pair of teen-age types in his own home.

Heyward's observation on teen-age trends:

"We have left the beach to Universal, Columbia and other studios which won't find much left there. The beach pictures ran their course. We used them for a voyeuristic approach, though they were perfectly clean — the Legion of Decency never objected to our films.

"But now that type of film has been negated by the plethora of sex-oriented films like 'What's New Pussycat?' There isn't much farther you can go.

"The next big area for teen-age films is protest. Teen-agers emphasize with protest, because they are in revolt against their parents.

"Among the movies we are planning for the coming season are subjects about stock-car racing and about the Hell's Angels type of motorcycle club, both of which represent a protest against society. These will be moral tales; there will be the good guys and the bad guys. But we will show the reasons for young people wanting to go against the dictates of the Establishment."

Back in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy has returned to the United States after a leisurely skiing vacation in Switzerland.

After landing with daughter Caroline and son John, she was whisked away in a Secret Service limousine to her Manhattan apartment.

Also with the former First Lady was John K. Galbraith, the former ambassador to India. He and his wife accompanied Mrs. Kennedy on her vacation.

Embassy Bird Gets Annual Treatment

LONDON (AP) — The big golden eagle on the American Embassy is getting its biennial beauty treatment, but the embassy won't say what color it will be when the beauticians get through.

The 35-foot aluminum bird has been hidden behind scaffolding and canvas for about a week. The last time the public saw it the eagle had turned black from anticorrosion paint.

As workmen attempted to restore its original gold color, London birdwatchers feared it would end up sandy brown or retain a darkish hue. The embassy refused to be drawn into the speculation.

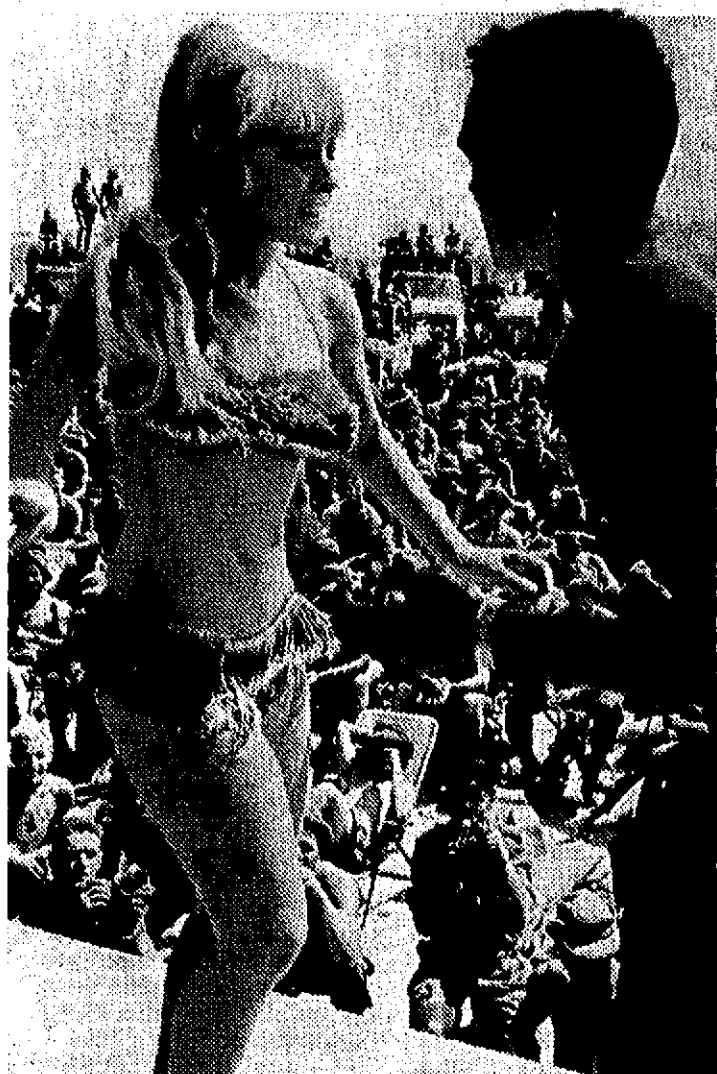

"The eagle is undergoing routine maintenance," a spokesman said. "This happens every two years."

Its color will be visible to all when the cover is removed early next week, he added.

The eagle stirred up a controversy five years ago when it was put up on the new embassy in Grosvenor Square. Many Britons complained that it was too large—larger than any British lion in the vicinity.

A lot of Britons also didn't like the modern lines of the embassy building designed by architect Eero Saarinen.

There have been no complaints recently, and unless it is being repaired most passersby pay no attention to the eagle.

SOMETHING FROM HOME—American troops aren't the only men in the front lines who go for a show business break in the battle routine. Australians serving in South Viet Nam also welcome a little something from home, in this case Australian entertainer Pat Wordsworth, known Down Under as "Big Pretzel," who twists with one digger while others dig her.

Youth Quake Is Shaking Business

By SALLY RYAN

AP Business News Writer

A youth quake is shaking American business with granny dresses, folk-rock records, transistor radios and smell-alike steadies.

With a collective $15 billion a year to spend, the nation's 24 million teen-agers have become the long-haired darlings of businessmen looking for big markets now and more later when the young people begin setting up homes of their own.

From Miami, Fla., to Bellingham, Wash., from Bangor, Maine, to San Diego, Calif., teen-agers dress alike and dance alike.

They also buy alike with a difference.

Their money doesn't go for rent and taxes, but for snacks, clothes, records, cars, cosmetics, dates, movies, contact lenses, guitars, skindiving equipment and a thousand other items.

"Clothes — that's where all my money goes," says Audrey Philips, 17, of Harlingen, Texas. "I spend money for food primarily," said Alex Kilros, 16, of Atlanta, a strapping 6-footer. "I also spend it on shooting pool, going to the movies."

Audrey and Alex are two of the scores of teen-agers who were asked in an Associated Press nationwide survey what they do with their money.

Their answers are vital to the growing number of firms rearing production lines and sales efforts to the demands of the youth market.

As Bruce A. Gimbel, New York City department store president, put it: "We no longer keep up with the Joneses, we keep up with the young."

One Fifth Avenue department store — Lord & Taylor — reports its teen-age business had grown 200 per cent in the last 10 years, and a store official adds he expects it to grow another 25 per cent a year for the foreseeable future.

A swank Fifth Avenue store for women — Bergdorf-Goodman — opened a haven for teen-agers this month. Airlines offer them half-rate fares. Auto makers appeal to them with fast-back cars. There are bar mitzvah pilgrimages to Israel, summer skiing tours of Europe and camps for overweight girls or those worried about their social IQ's — "College will be a ball this fall!"

Novelist Wells

The British historian, H. G. Wells, achieved his first fame with a series of science-fiction novels that were intended to express his social theories, but which people enjoyed as romances instead.

The cork tree is a live oak that is, it is green the year round.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television - Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) - Kindergarten children sang, "We love the Communist party." Grade school children marched and chanted, "Yankees, get out of Viet Nam." College students, farmers and factory workers were doing military exercises.

These were among the filmed sights in Sunday night's disturbing "Voice of the Dragon" on NBC. It was edited from material shot by a French camera team during a three-month trip through Red China.

Quite obviously, the film was made with the blessing of the Red Chinese government. There were earnest group leaders lecturing attentive students on Communist ideology, anti-American street demonstrations, hard-working peasants tilling fields and building roads. There were festivals and big gatherings and well-fed children.

There was a brief and almost unbelievable interview with an English-speaking Chinese who told of his family's former interests - banks, mines, lumber shipping - and then said he was proud of China now because it was strong.

Accompanying the films, however, was a penetrating narrative.

tion written by Paul Green. It cut through the puffery while discounting none of the terrible potentials of this nation of 700 million whose Communist rulers are systematically teaching its people to despise the United States.

With American reporters barred from Red China, films of life there are rare for television viewers. It was a most interesting hour.

The sobering news and public affairs shows were the most important part of the television weekend, but notice should be taken of one particularly bright show - Danny Thomas' NBC special Sunday night, consisting of music, dancing and nonsense, all filmed on the back lot of one of the great Hollywood film studios.

The show moved from "New York Street" - and wasn't that the entrance to "U.N.C.L.E." headquarters in the background? - around the corner to a Paris cafe and then on to war rubble, a castle, even a pirate ship in the studio lake.

Until the advent of Christianity in the 7th century all Anglo-Saxons wore beards; members of the clergy were then ordered by law to shave. English princes wore mustaches until William I, in the 11th century, compelled them to cut them off according to Norman fashion. The Crusades probably accounted for the return of beards. This lasted until the 15th century when Henry was clean-shaven. Thereafter beards were rare, except in older men, until the 16th century.

Alworth and Taylor Set New AFL Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Sure-handed Lionel Taylor of the Denver Broncos and mercurial Lance Alworth of the San Diego Chargers grabbed the lion's share of pass receiving laurels in the American Football League last season.

Taylor snared the receiving title for the fifth time in six years while Alworth set the pace in yardage and tied for the most touchdowns among the league's pass catchers.

Field goal ace Pete Gogolak of Buffalo and punt return king Lesli Duncan of San Diego also were officially crowned today with the release of certified final AFL statistics. Both smashed league records in their specialties during the 1965 season.

Taylor, who lost the receiving crown to Houston's Charlie Hennigan in 1964, regained it with a 44-game total of 85 catches. The Broncos' tight end has caught 508 passes for 6,247 yards and 43 touchdowns in his six-year AFL tenure.

Alworth traveled 1,602 yards with his 69 receptions and tied Don Maynard of New York for the most touchdown catches with 14. The San Diego flanker's yardage total was the second highest in AFL history, Hennigan having gained 1,746 yards in 1961.

Gogolak, a soccer-style kicker, booted 28 field goals, breaking by one the AFL record set by Gene Mingo of Denver four years ago. Gogolak was successful on 60.9 per cent of his 46 field goal attempts, the longest a 47-yarder.

Duncan, like Gogolak a second-year pro, returned 30 punts for a record 464 yards, averaging 15.5 per runback. Oakland's Claude Gibson set the old mark of 419 yards in 1964.

13-Game Win Streak Halted by Notre Dame

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a night to remember for the Irish of Notre Dame and the Redmen of St. John's University in college basketball. The Irish snapped a 13-game losing streak and the Redmen won in Philadelphia for the first time in seven years.

Notre Dame's first victory since Dec. 15 when the Irish downed Bowling Green was a decisive 84-61 home decision over Butler Wednesday night. Led by Jim Monahan's 19 points, the Irish opened a 12-0 lead and had little trouble winning their fourth game against 15 defeats.

In contrast, the Redmen from New York had to go two overtimes for a 75-72 squeaker over Temple. It was St. John's first victory in the Palestra at Philadelphia since Jan. 6, 1959.

Bob McIntyre's basket in the closing seconds of regulation time tied the score for St. John's at 61-61 after Sonny Dove prevented a possible winning lay-up by Temple's Jim Williams by knocking the ball out of bounds.

Williams' two free throws gave Temple a 65-65 tie at the end of the first overtime. But with five seconds left in the second extra period and St. John's ahead 73-72, he missed twice from the foul line. In the last seconds Temple's Chris Kefalos fouled Henry Cluess who made good on two free throws for St. John's final points.

Clarence Brookins of Temple was high scorer with 26 points. Dove topped St. John's with 24 while McIntyre got 21. The game was part of a doubleheader. Lafayette beat LaSalle 93-81 in the opener.

The Providence Friars and the St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia, the only teams in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, each won handily. Back at home, after Sunday's upset defeat by Duquesne, the sixth-ranked Friars whipped Fairfield 74-62 behind Jim Benedict's 25 points. The eight-ranked Hawks crushed Seton Hall 110-64, the worst home-court defeat ever suffered by the Pirates.

Henry Finkel's basket with 54 seconds left put Dayton ahead of Xavier of Ohio 72-71 and his two free throws with two seconds to go sealed the Flyers' 76-73 road victory over the Musketeers. It was Dayton's 17th triumph against three defeats.

Bob Lewis scored 34 points for North Carolina, but the Tar Heels were beaten by NYU 83-78 in the feature of a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden. Richie Murphy's 22 points, combined with Tom Greely's two free throws in the last minute, gave Holy Cross a 68-66 victory over Manhattan in the Garden first game.

Auburn and Alabama scored road victories in the Southeastern Conference. Auburn whipped Florida 96-66 and Alabama downed Mississippi 79-60.

Hockey Loop Plans 6 Team Expansion

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League, spawned in Montreal with four Canadian and no American teams 48 years ago, has moved to within shooting distance of completing its expansion program by granting six new franchises, each to groups representing U.S. cities.

Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Minneapolis-St. Paul were given the green light Wednesday after the NHL's Board of Governors reviewed 13 applications from eight cities during the three-day meetings. In addition, St. Louis received a conditional franchise.

Bids by delegations from Vancouver, B.C.; Baltimore, and Buffalo were rejected.

The 12-team, two division, coast-to-coast operation is geared to start in October 1967.

If present plans materialize, 10 of the 12 teams in the projected setup will be based in the United States. The Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs would be the only NHL entries from north of the border.

The awarding of the St. Louis franchise is subject to approval of an applicant satisfactory to the board of governors by April 5, 1966. Otherwise, said league President Clarence Campbell, a franchise will be granted to a Baltimore group headed by Zanyl Krieger, a major stockholder in the Baltimore Orioles' baseball club.

So, this is the way hockey's big league, which has had the same six teams since 1942 when the Brooklyn Americans disbanded, will likely shape up for the start of the 1967-68 campaign:

In one division, New York, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Toronto and Montreal. In another division, Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Pittsburgh and either St. Louis or Baltimore.

Each of the new teams will play a 74-game schedule, 50 games against clubs in their division and 24 against those in the present division. The same setup will exist for the current six teams.

"The current NHL is concentrated in the East," Campbell said. "The six new teams will constitute a division that will be well-balanced geographically with two clubs in the East, two in the Midwest and two on the West Coast."

By SANDY PADWE

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Hardly anyone noticed when the Philadelphia 76ers placed Art Heyman on waivers recently, thus ending a professional basketball career that never really began.

Three short years ago, Art Heyman was one of the nation's best-known All-Americans at Duke University, a controversial, but talented basketball player with a seemingly big future as a professional.

But there was one thing missing from Art Heyman's game—an outside shot—and when he was switched from his college position (forward) to professional guard, he could not adjust.

There have been dozens like Heyman through the years—some with even bigger collegiate reputations like Lenny Rosenbluth of North Carolina, Billy McGill of Utah, Barry Kramer of NYU, Paul Hogue of Cincinnati.

Some were too thin to battle under the boards, some wouldn't (or couldn't) play defense, some were great scorers as collegiate centers, but were too small at that position for professional ball.

"I want that 230-pound forward," Earl Lloyd, the former scout for the Detroit Pistons said. "I want a boy who can knock people down and take a pounding. These 6-7, 185-pound college forwards are up against a tremendous disadvantage before they ever start. Sometimes you can scout a boy by watching him take off his sweat suit. Remember, we play 80 games in around 150 days. You've got to be strong to go at that pace."

Bob Feerick of San Francisco is just as blunt.

"I stress pure physical ability more than anything else," he said. "If a boy hasn't got the size, strength, speed and other physical assets, it doesn't matter how much desire he's got. It's a big man's game for the most part."

Naturally, there always are exceptions. Rick Barry (6-7, 200) of the San Francisco Warriors is the big one this season.

Bob Pettit, the former St. Louis Hawks' great, is another. When he came out of LSU in 1953, he was 6-9 and weighed 215 pounds. His reputation was built on scoring and rebounding, but the pros still had their doubts until Pettit dispelled them by winning the rookie of the year award.

This year Vanderbilt's Clyde Lee is being compared to Pettit as an undergraduate. Lee is a great scorer and a good rebounder, but there are the same reservations because he's only 6-9, 200 pounds.

Under Earl Lloyd and Bob Feerick's formula, it would seem that Lee has little chance as a pro.

Which is what they said about Bob Pettit and Rick Barry. It's strange how the guys who aren't supposed to make it usually do, while the so-called stars wind up like an Art Heyman or a Billy McGill.

Palmer Man to Beat in Phoenix Open

By BOB EGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, off to his fastest winter tour start in history, was the man to beat as the $60,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament opened today over a soggy Arizona Country Club course.

Palmer, who has a first, two seconds and a third in four starts this year, won the Phoenix event in 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Palmer and the rest of the field, which includes all five 1966 champions, were keeping an eye on the sky. Rain and hail forced cancellation of Wednesday's pro-am competition midway through the round.

Partly cloudy skies were expected today with a chance of more afternoon showers. Temperatures ranging from the mid 30s to the mid 50s were forecast.

Ken Venturi, the 1964 U. S. Open champ, was one of those most concerned with the cold. His hands, operated on last summer for circulatory problems, are easily numbed by chilly weather, and he must employ gloves and hand warmers on brisk days.

Venturi, who captured the Lucky International title last month in San Francisco, played in what there was of Wednesday's pro-am and appeared to have little difficulty with the cold.

The rain-soaked rye grass fairways of the 6,765-yard, par-71 course were playing long, favoring the big hitters like Palmer.

Rod Funseth is the defending Phoenix champion. The 32-year-old Spokane, Wash., campaigner used the tourney as a springboard to his best season ever — $30,647 in official money — last year.

Although he's won just $2,341 over-all so far in 1966, Funseth's closing rounds of 68-66 were the best in last week's Bob Hope event.

Only a handful of pros finished before rain washed out Wednesday's activity. Of those who did, George Knudson and Randy Glover had the best scores with 69s.

War Fatalities

Of the 360,812 World War II U.S. fatalities, 281,857 bodies were recovered and, of those recovered, the unknown dead numbered 8,491, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

ROUGH STUFF, KOREAN STYLE—Rest break doesn't always mean rest for South Korean troops in South Viet Nam. These marines take an hour a day when not in battle to practice "taekwondo," the Korean version of karate, which gives them an edge in close combat.

New Problem for River Captains

MEMPHIS (AP) — Towboat captains had a new problem to contend with on the ice-filled Mississippi River Monday: Where's the channel? Buoy marking the channel have been ripped loose by the heavy crush of ice that has choked the river from Cairo, Ill., to about 100 miles downstream from here. And low water caused by clogged tributaries is complicating navigation. U.S. Engineers announced Monday that two patrol boats—one northbound and the other southbound—have been sent out to make new soundings and replace the errant buoys.

It is said that King Rameses was the pharaoh of the Exodus.

Two More Sign With Razorbacks

DEWITT, Ark. (AP) — Full-back Darrell Horton and tackle Ken Kestner and Walter Fisher, all of DeWitt, signed pre-enrollment applications Wednesday with the University of Arkansas.

Horton and Fisher were named to the Class AA all-state team following DeWitt's undefeated campaign last fall.

Horton, a 180-pounder, gained 1,964 yards rushing for DeWitt last season. Kestner weighs 200 pounds and Fisher 225 pounds.

Dozen Horses From Florida Farm

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Llangollen Farm of Ocala, Fla., is sending a dozen thoroughbreds to Oaklawn Park for the 43-day spring meeting which opens Saturday.

"We have difficulty running horses when and as often as we would like," said Llangollen Farm owner Mrs. Cloyce Tippet. She said conditions at the Hialeah Race Track in Miami are just too crowded.

"Also, I would like to take a course of my thermal baths," she told J. Sweeney Grant, Oaklawn general manager.

It will be the first time for the Florida farm to be a party of the Oaklawn season.

Included in the dozen thoroughbreds is Tumble Wind, recently bought for $100,000 by Mrs. Lela Ellis of Scottsdale, Ariz.

Picture-Pretty Knits

Quality knits are perfect travel companions. A draped cowl neckline and softer-than-straight skirt add grace and ease to this versatile wool knit (left) which can go anywhere from sunup to sundown. Tailored for travel, the one-piece knit dress (right) is dramatically divided into separate color zones. A self-belt defines the waistline. These are Kimberly knits. Sleekly styled, projector is another ideal travel mate which helps to capture vacation memories for the traveler to enjoy over the years.

The Way to Beauty

Shorter Fluff Cut Softens the Features

Although in vogue, shoulder length or longer hairstyles are much like the frug or Watusi—best left to those under 25. A shorter fluff cut shown here adds a special softening effect to the mature woman's features without making her appear girlish. A combination of razor and scissors cut by Michel Contino, it combs into flick curls resembling a chrysanthemum petal. Hair is set on large rollers.

Beautifying the Beast

by Ruth Millett

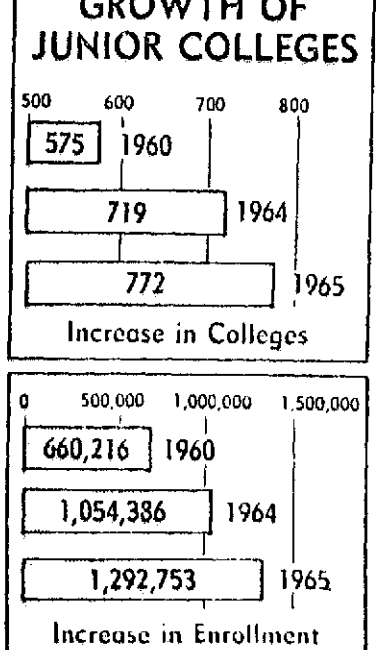

Once upon a time, cosmetic advertisements directed at feminine readers carried but one message: "Make yourself lovely for him."

Now a new theme has been added: "Make him irresistible to you."

A full page newspaper ad before me is addressed to LADIES!—exclamation point and all. But the beauty aids are for that special man.

And listen to the lyrics:

base) and that will blend with his skin tone, and cream to keep his hands soft.

But that's not quite all. That just takes care of his morning grooming. For after work you buy him a pickup mask, "a 10-minute cocktail for his skin" that "relaxes and stimulates, firms and tones." For his tired, executive eyes, you get him eye pads, soaked in a special formula "to cool and soothe."

And what if, after you buy all of these beauty aids for the man in your life, he looks at you in astonishment and says: "A cocktail for my skin? Are you losing your mind?" Well, congratulations. You're married to a man who has no intention of letting you turn him into a perfumed pet.

The biggest boom on the booming U.S. education scene is in the junior college field. Rapid growth in number of schools and enrollment is bringing the country to the threshold of a "universal" 14-year education pattern. About two-thirds of last year's June high school graduates went on to the "13th grade." California leads in junior colleges—80—and enrollment—400,000. New York is next with 67 schools and 70,000 students. Another some 50 junior colleges are expected to be added to the national total by this September.

A Complexion Study Plan

by Alicia Hart
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Neglect is a leading culprit contributing to many skin problems of teen-agers. Neglect of skin during adolescence also can rob a young woman of a better complexion as she matures.

Skin specialists point out that the natural aging process of skin needn't leave a woman just turned 25 with crow's feet, thin lines around the lips or furrowed brow. High school and college girls should not have lined throats, either, they say. But more and more young women do have these. It is disheartening to them. It also is confusing to men who used to read these neck and facial signs to help gauge a potential date's age. No more.

A teen-ager can head off a lined throat before the lines become too firmly etched by correcting her posture when walking and when seated at her study desk. Hold the head erect and don't let the neck sink into the shoulders like a startled turtle.

Keeping the skin moist, clean and supple with hand massages helps ward off feathery lines. It also is proved that a smile does more for the face than a frown. Constant sour expressions make those furrowed brows and can leave an unattractive line between the eyes.

For a teen-ager cleanliness is a necessity to cut down on severe skin outbreaks such as pimples and blemishes. Select a soft complexion brush that won't irritate the skin. Use it to massage on a soap, perhaps a medicated one or one containing hexachlorophene to cut down on bacteria and further infection. Rinse

Complexion care during the teen-age years contributes to fewer skin problems when a woman matures. Use individual, clean cosmetic puffs to cleanse skin and apply make-up.

thoroughly with clean water and pat dry.

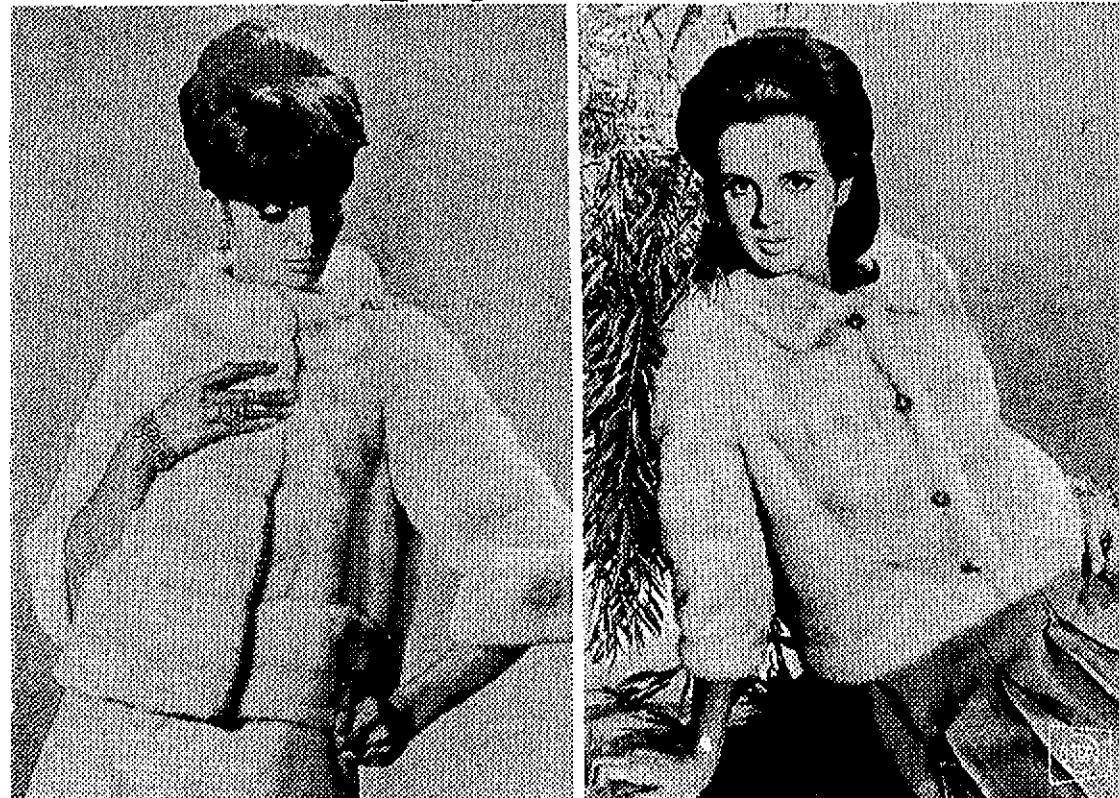

For applying or removing make-up use an oversized cosmetic puff. You'll need a bag of these puffs. Throw each one away after use. Continued use of cotton balls, tissue wipes or powder puffs that are caked with stale make-up and facial creams only add to complexion woes.

It is at the teen age, skin specialists point out, that a woman needs to study her skin type and learn the proper use of lubricants, moisturizers, masks, astringents and other beauty aids to keep her skin in balance. Many department stores offer free classes in cosmetics and skin care. Take advantage of these.

But all the manufactured items in the world cannot compensate for two other often neglected facets of a teen-ager's life—sleep and diet. The young woman who eats properly and gets adequate rest will reap future dividends.

Look Rosy in Pink Mink

by Helen Hennessy
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Fur is a $350 million industry in the United States and mink accounts for about 85 per cent of that total. Apparently women do "think mink."

This spring we can "think pink mink."

Complementing the pink tones that will be important in spring costumes is Rovalia, Emba rare natural pale rose mink. This is one of the newest mutations and only one mink in 250 is suitable in color.

One designer has styled this elegant fur into a horizontally fashioned, hipbone-length jacket with an off-center closing, small circle collar and slash pockets.

Like fashion in general, the hard tailored look has disappeared in fur designs. Designers have created styles that will complement the bias cuts, gentle gatherings and feminine details of spring ensembles.

Emba mink, because of its soft, natural colors has been chosen by leading stylists to reflect this soft look.

Morning Light, clear blue-beige, has been used in a tunic with a wide boat neck and ratty cap sleeves.

Azurene, natural blue-grey mink, has been fashioned into a jacket with a tabbed front and gathered, barrel-cuffed sleeves inspired by a man's sport shirt.

The cardigan, big on the spring scene, has been done in Lutetia, rare natural gun-metal mink.

The pale beige of Tourmaline turns up in a cape with portrait neckline and in a tiny fly-away bolero.

If the initial cost of mink should cause you to decide your spring costumes will have to stand up on their own this year, you might give some thought to the fact that the average life of a mink fashion is 10 years. And restyling can give quality mink a whole new life cycle.

So perhaps, after all, you can "think mink" for spring.

Sewer's Enthusiasm Shows Up in Work

Select sewing aids with care.

by Mary Brooks Picken, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Enthusiasm is an important ingredient in everything you do. But it is especially important in sewing.

Sewing is an art to be enjoyed, just like painting a picture. It must begin with fabric, end up a beautiful item of home furnishing or apparel. How can you find and hold this priceless ingredient... enthusiasm?

Mrs. Picken

First, learn all you can about sewing. See what is being offered in your smart shops, the dresses that cost real money. Then, with enthusiasm seek and find a pattern that will express YOU.

Find just the right fabric for your design. Usually the pattern suggests three or more fabrics that are right in weight and texture for the design. Check these. If possible, buy your pattern first, then your fabric, the zipper, matching thread, any trimming, seam binding and whatever else you need to complete the garment.

By all means buy the best quality fabric you can afford and be sure the color is your most flattering.

Thinking ahead, having everything ready when the time comes that you can sew, is keeping the fire under your kettle of enthusiasm. You have nothing to delay or annoy you, you can put your heart and mind to the job.

Read the pattern instructions. One reason cooking is so advanced in our country is that women have learned how to read and follow recipes. Think of your pattern instructions as a recipe for your garment. Follow it just as carefully as you would a recipe for a dish fit for a gourmet.

Use your enthusiasm to see the finished garment—one that will flatter you, make you feel proud and happy.

Sewing will give you a sense of achievement. The beautiful results help you to express yourself in the loveliest possible way. When enthusiasm for the job has been with you from the first stitch to the last, you will be delighted with your creation.

Canned Beef Gravy Helps Give a New Look to Everyday Food

Take a food that you serve often, spark it with imaginative seasonings, and present it attractively. That's the basis of creative cooking—and good eating, the kind that folks who gather around your dinner table will anticipate.

Your family will be delighted with this interesting new way to serve a familiar ground beef. South American Meat Pie features a spicy meat filling enveloped in golden, daky pastry. The pie is sauced with rich caramel beef gravy studded with sliced stuffed olives and chopped hard-cooked eggs.

That sauce is so easy to make. Just open a can of beef gravy. It's never lumpy or greasy, but is always ready to serve as it comes from the can or with your own special additions.

The pie is hearty and needs only a crisp salad or relishes, a beverage, and a simple fruit or ice cream dessert as accompaniments.

SOUTH AMERICAN MEAT PIE
1 pound ground beef
1 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup minced onion
1/2 teaspoon cumin
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) beef gravy
1 package (about 10 ounces) pie crust mix prepared
3 stuffed olives sliced
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
Dash cayenne

In skillet, cook beef, green pepper, onion, 1/2 teaspoon cumin, and salt until vegetables are tender. Pour off fat. Stir in 1/2 cup gravy. Cool. Roll pastry for bottom of 8-inch pie pan and strip 1/2-inch wide for lattice top. Fill pie shell with meat mixture; top with latticed pastry. Bake at 425 F. for 25 minutes. Meanwhile, in saucepan, combine remaining ingredients. Heat; stir now and then. Serve sauce with pie. Makes 4 servings.

Girl's Attempt at Suicide Fails

PORTLAND, Ore. — "STAY AWAY FROM ME!" screamed Suzette Jackson, 17, Vancouver, Wash., (top) to Matron Ruth Gerte, who approaches. In middle photo, the matron grabs Suzette as unidentified fireman races to help. At bottom, girl is overpowered. She was de-

2nd Failure to Outlaw Right to Work Law

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new attempt to win Senate approval for a House-passed bill to end the right of states to outlaw the union shop is expected to end in failure today.

This presumably would close the door from the present congressional session on the proposal to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, to which the nation's labor leaders have assigned top priority. The Johnson administration has endorsed the repeal proposal.

The section permits states to outlaw union-shop contracts under which employees must join the union.

The Senate votes for the second time this week on an attempt to invoke cloture and cut off a filibuster which has blocked attempts to bring the repeal measure up for formal Senate consideration.

An initial attempt to stop the filibuster failed Tuesday when supporters of the repeal move had a 51-48 margin, 15 short of the two-thirds necessary to limit Senate debate.

The prospects were that the bill's backers would do little — if any — better today.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, of Montana has said that if he failed this time to impose cloture, he would lay the bill aside and not attempt to call it up again this year.

However, the measure would remain on the Senate calendar. Presumably if something new unforeseen happens to improve its chances, Mansfield could reverse himself and try to bring it up again this session.

Mansfield first sought to get consideration for the measure last October after it had won 221-203 approval from the House.

But then, as now, a tightly knit filibuster prevented even a vote on the preliminary motion to bring the bill before the Senate.

The filibusters were directed by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and joined by most Republicans and some Southern Democrats.

Acceptance of GI Bill Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plans today to accept nearly all of the changes made by the House in approving the GI bill.

But one expected Senate change may force another House vote before Congress can give final approval and send to the White House the measure setting up a permanent system of education and home loan benefits for veterans.

Although the measure is more costly than one pushed by President Johnson, he is expected to sign it into law. It would provide assistance to veterans with more than six months military service retroactive to the expiration of previous programs on Jan. 31, 1955.

The legislation comes up for a floor vote after the Senate acts on shutting off a filibuster against the union shop bill.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., chief sponsor of the veterans legislation, said he was prepared to go along with the basic framework of the House version.

However, Yarborough said he would insist on an amendment to make clear that the education benefits could be used by veterans who have not graduated from high school.

House experts on the measure said they were confident such veterans were covered. But Yarborough insisted there was doubt and declared that the point must be nailed down.

The World War II and Korean War GI bills did cover veterans who had not finished high school.

Civil Rights Bill Goes to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sends Congress today a proposal to shift the Community Relations Service from the Commerce Department to the Justice Department.

The service was established under the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to head off racial disputes by conciliation and mediation.

If neither the House nor Senate acts unfavorably within 60 days, the plan will go into effect. No affirmative action is required.

The plan is expected to have fairly clear sailing in the House, but things may be a bit rougher in the Senate. Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a civil rights supporter, and Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., who has opposed rights measures, have announced opposition to the shift.

Meanwhile 13 senators joined in offering a six-part civil rights bill designed primarily to protect Negroes and civil rights workers against what they termed "segregated justice."

The 10 Democrats and three Republicans said their measure would carry out many recommendations by the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

President Johnson has said he would submit legislation in this field but has not yet done so.

The rights measure would ban discrimination on grounds of race or color in federal and state jury selection, and would permit trial of state crimes in federal courts if necessary to assure equal protection of the laws.

Cities Offend Pollution Law

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Cities which dump raw sewage into streams and rivers are the biggest offenders in water pollution in the United States, says the vice president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Sam S. Studebaker of Tipp City, Ohio, said the nation would face a daily shortage of billions of gallons of quality water by the end of the century.

Speaking at the 25th annual convention of the association, he said: "We are making headway on soil conservation, but we are slipping backwards on water pollution."

Two Sentenced in Circuit Court

In Hempstead Circuit Court yesterday Judge Lyle Brown revoked a suspended sentence and committed Charles Golston, to the Arkansas penitentiary for two years. Golston had been previously sentenced to five years on a charge of robbery.

Bennie Hall, pleaded guilty to burglary and grand larceny and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. He was charged in the theft of a gun, rifle and a saw from Travis Ward.

History of Post Office Related

In the postal department they say that on "Old Postmaster Never Dies." He Just Loses His Zip", so said A. D. "Doc Brannan in a humorous speech delivered before Hope Kiwanis Club.

This matter of "playing post-office", has its serious sides as well as many humorous angles. Mr. Brannan went on to say and to recite actual experiences to prove his point, such as the Hope woman who was slightly confused. She wrote her own name and address of the envelope and it was delivered to her home.

Before launching into his talk, which proved to be one of the most refreshing and delightful in recent months before the club Mr. Brannan recalled a series of memories of Hope in the "early days", which began with his arrival as a youth from south Missouri.

"When I got here in 1914, Hope was nothing but a mud-hole with a lot of good people around. The police or marshals back then had mounted horses. The mud was so deep to walk in."

"Webb Laseter, Sr., was fire chief. We had curfew. Everybody was off the streets at 9 p.m. The merchants in those days opened their stores at 11 in the morning, and always swept off the walks. Now open at 9 in the morning. Times have changed."

"We use to have horse racing at Fair Park. They ran here and then were moved to Shreveport for more races."

He used the language of Andrew "Speedy" Hutson to describe an early Hempstead County fair, which involved a farmer, a bull, a pumpkin, and a quilt. It seemed the bull got loose, smashed the pumpkin, dirtied the quilt, jumped the fence and ran home.

Mr. Brannan then turned his speech to the serious side. He talked about the new $300,000 postoffice and federal building, the zip code and other related matters.

The postal department was never designed to make money, but was set up in the beginning as a service institution. The Hope postoffice now has an annual payroll of $205,000. Seven mail trucks operate in and out of Hope, which costs another $65,000.

The local office receipts are about $120,000 per year. Forty-nine towns are being served by the local office which involves around 100,000 patrons. The local office is now handling about 250,000 pieces of mail per week, Mr. Brannan concluded.

Dominican Riots Leave Seven Dead

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Labor leaders and left-wing extremists threatened a general strike today after seven persons were killed and at least 25 injured in day-long rioting in Santo Domingo.

Leftist labor and political leaders charged the police with brutality in the violence touched off by a Communist-led student demonstration Wednesday. They also renewed demands for the quick removal from the country of armed forces leaders who have failed to obey a presidential order assigning them to diplomatic jobs abroad.

The two leading moderate leftist parties, the Revolutionary Social Christians and Juan Bosch's Dominican Revolutionary party were expected to support a strike. Three previous calls for a general strike collapsed because the two parties failed to support it.

Consolidation Inevitable, Board Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas School Board Association says school consolidation is "inevitable," but that it should be based on quality rather than quantity.

The association adopted a resolution Wednesday supporting reorganization of school districts "that are unable to offer a quality school program due to their limited enrollment."

The resolution also called for legislation to "raise the quality standards for all schools to be at least the minimum set by the North Central Association of Schools."

A proposed mandatory school consolidation initiated act would require the abolishment of all districts with fewer than 400 students as of June 1, 1967. The proposal would include all persons living in the district between the ages of 6 and 18, whether attending school or not.

The proposed initiated act would make such districts either join with other small districts or be annexed to larger ones. The state Education Department would have authority to abolish districts which failed to carry out the act's provisions.

The association's resolution said any reorganization should be done through the co-operation of local persons, school boards involved and the state Board of Education.

Some association members questioned why the figure 400 should be the minimum for a school district. Some suggested that 1,000 might be an ideal number.

Hubert H. Blanchard, assistant executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, said reorganization of districts with less than 400 students would improve educational opportunities for almost 40,000 children who need improved opportunities the most.

Woman 72, Is Rape Victim

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A 72-year-old woman from Altheimer became a rape victim for the second time last Saturday, Jefferson County Sheriff Harold Norton said Wednesday.

Norton quoted the woman as saying she awoke and saw a man standing by her bed. He began beating her about the head and shoulders and then sexually attacked her, she said.

The woman was raped the night of Jan. 15 in the front yard of her home while she was returning from a grocery store.

Altheimer citizens have posted a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the man responsible.

Missiles Down 2 Planes, Gls Under Attack

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Army troops came under withering Communist fire today near Saigon and in the coastal rice lands. Over North Viet Nam, a pair of Soviet-made missiles knocked a Navy jet out of the sky.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived at the Saigon airport late today accompanied by South Vietnamese chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. He will leave for five other Asian capitals on Sunday after emphasizing the hopes for social, economic and political progress expressed by President Johnson at his Honolulu meeting with the Vietnamese leaders.

The brace of surface-to-air missiles hit the Navy A4 Skyhawk during a raid Wednesday on Hon Mat Island, 33 miles south of the North Vietnamese coastal city of Thanh Hoa, a U.S. spokesman reported. The pilot bailed out over the South China Sea and was rescued by a helicopter from the guided-missile frigate England.

The loss of the jet fighter-bomber was the first attributed to missiles since the United States ended the 37-day bombing pause on Jan. 31. Navy and Air Force planes kept up the heavy schedule of attacks on the Communist North, hitting bridges, trucks and railroad box cars.

Pilots reported intense anti-aircraft fire, which American military officials saw as proof of their warnings that the North Vietnamese would strengthen their air defenses during the suspension of raids.

The heaviest action on the ground broke out near Cu Chi, 25 miles west of Saigon, when a large number of Viet Cong snipers and mortar men rose like jacks-in-the-box from camouflaged openings in the high tunnel complex in the area.

They poured heavy fire on two companies of the U.S. 5th Division who recently established positions in the area. The fighting broke out almost within hailing distance of their headquarters.

Army helicopters fired rockets at suspected Communist mortar positions, but it appeared they did not have much success. The Viet Cong apparently pulled back into their tunnels, which run for miles and are in four tiers in some places. The 25th Division troops are wrecking the tunnel system.

Rolls Royce Was Extravagant

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Members of Kenya's Parliament warned Tuesday night that the purchase of a $28,000 Rolls Royce for the mayor of Nairobi was the sort of extravagance that could sow the seed of revolution.

One MP cited the murder of Nigeria's finance minister in the recent military coup as an example of what could happen to those who indulged in such extravagance.

To a man, speakers in the angry 30-minute debate condemned the City Council's purchase of the Rolls and demanded that the car be sent back to the makers.

Nairobi's mayor, Alderman Charles Rubia, called a meeting of the council to consider the matter.

A Meatless Delight

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Who says a meatless dish has to be dull? That's culinary nonsense. Ask any gourmet, and he'll tell you some of the greatest dishes in the world are made with fish or shell fish.

Here's an example. Actually it can be a party dish. But why not prepare it for the family just to prove to them how good foods from the sea can be?

SHRIMP STROGANOFF

(Serves 4)

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 lb. shrimp, fresh or frozen, or 1 (8 or 10 oz.) packaged frozen, peeled and deveined shrimp | 2 tablespoons grated onion |
| 1/2 cup flour | 1 teaspoon prepared mustard |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 1/2 cups tomato juice |
| 1/4 teaspoon pepper | 1/2 cup commercial sour cream |
| 1/4 lb. bacon (5-6 strips), diced (optional) | Hot cooked rice, Holland rusks, or toast points |

Shell and devein shrimp, if necessary. If they are large, cut them to bite-size. Rinse and drain. Place flour, salt and pepper in a clean bag. Add shrimp, and shake well to coat thoroughly. (If preferred, you may now arrange them one layer deep, cover and refrigerate until serving time.) About 15 minutes before mealtime, place bacon in cook-and-serve type skillet and cook, stirring constantly, until brown and crisp. Remove bacon and drain on paper toweling. To fat in pan, add onion and shrimp. Cook over moderate heat two minutes; turn to brown second side, about two minutes more. Mix mustard with tomato juice and add to pan, stirring to blend. Cook 3-5 minutes more. Just before serving, remove from heat and stir in sour cream. Keep warm over lowest heat. Serve, garnished with bacon, over rice, rusks or toast. Note: If desired, bacon may be omitted. Use 1/2-cup oil to brown the shrimp and proceed as recipe directs.

GOPs Plan to Make War a Key Issue

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are charting an election year course that aligns them generally with President Johnson's policy in the Vietnamese war — and spotlights Democratic criticism of the administration stand.

GOP orators seldom mount a platform these days without pointing to the Capitol Hill Democrats who challenge Johnson's stand.

"Fool talk," Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky called it. "The flag is committed," he said. "I support the flag."

Republican strategists on Capitol Hill have said they are counting on Democratic divisions about Viet Nam to help the GOP cause in the congressional campaign ahead.

If Washington-based strategists have their way, Republican contenders next fall will challenge their Democratic opponents to declare themselves supporters — or critics — of Johnson's stand in Southeast Asia.

This political strategy has been accompanied by an easing of Republican calls for U.S. measures that would heighten the war.

Republican leaders seldom talk now about the two-month-old call of party chieftains for a blockade of North Viet Nam and for maximum use of air and sea power against military targets there.

In general, this GOP course seems to take maximum advantage of the public sentiment reported to the party's national committee by a professional poll-taker.

Thomas W. Benham of Opinion Research Corp. found Viet Nam the issue uppermost in the American mind — but also found that 56 per cent of the people approve what Johnson has ordered there and only 28 per cent disapprove.

While he reported Johnson's popularity rating is high, Benham recalled the plunge in Harry S. Truman's standing that accompanied the worsening Korean war.

A turn for the worse in Viet Nam could do the same thing to Johnson's popularity, Benham said.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York has said it would be suicidal for Republicans to try to make the war into a partisan issue.

"If the Republican party is smart," he said, "and it gives every indication of being so on this subject, it will stick strictly to the bipartisan position of support of the President when he deserves it and proper criticism when he doesn't deserve it."

The suspicion that the separate package approach could backfire on the President is based on the obvious satisfaction which some foes of the entire program derived from the President's suggestion.

Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., who heads a House Appropriations subcommittee which handles all foreign aid funds, didn't see any advantage either way to the President's suggestion that the entire program be authorized for a five-year period instead of being processed annually.

But Passman emphasized that he was against actual appropriations for more than one year at a time. He claimed the over-all aid program is "fragmentized" through 15 bills now and actually costs closer to $8 billion than the $3.3 billion appropriated last year.

Chocolate Pancakes Do the Trick

Ever make chocolate pancakes? Ever pile them, one on top of another, and spread a cream filling in between the cakes?

This may all sound slightly fanciful. But it really isn't because there is a new chocolate-flavored dessert pancake mix on the market. Therefore, to make this Vienna Torté it takes more creative imagination than actual kitchen skill.

LUSCIOUS VIENNA TORTE

- 2 eggs
2 cups water
1 11-oz. package Vienna dessert pancake mix, chocolate flavored
1/4 cup melted butter

Beat together eggs and water. Add pancake mix and beat well. Stir in melted butter. Lightly grease a griddle. Heat to proper temperature (a few drops of water will sizzle when sprinkled on griddle). Use 1/4-cup batter for each pancake. To assure uniform shape pour batter slowly. Turn once. Makes five 8-inch pancakes. Cool before stacking with any of the following flavored whipped cream fillings.

CREAM FILLING

- 2 cups heavy cream
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Whip cream with sugar and vanilla. Spread each pancake with whipped cream filling and stack. If desired, garnish top with chocolate curls. Chill for several hours. For variety, to basic filling add: 1 cup spoon instant coffee or 1/4 chopped pecans or 1 table-cup cocoa.

VIENNA TORTE is made with chocolate pancakes.

Good Way to Cook Chops

Q—Everyone in my family likes pork chops. Will you please advise me what is the best way to cook them?

A—Most people seem to prefer them braised. Season shoulder, rib or loin chops, dip into flour, and brown in a small amount of fat. Then braise in a covered skillet with a little liquid such as water, stock, tomato juice or fruit juice. This results in tender, juicy pork chops. Cook at least one-half hour.

Pork chops can be broiled, too. But they should be at least 1-inch thick for charcoal and oven broiling. Adjust distance of the meat from the heat to allow for slow broiling and thorough cooking. Pan-broil thinner chops.

Q—Which are better avocados—those with paper-thin and relatively smooth skins or those with leathery skins that are rough and shell-like?

A—Skin thickness has nothing to do with the quality of an avocado. Smoother, thin-skinned types are more attractive, but the rougher, thicker-skinned fruits are usually equally as desirable in flavor and quality, according to Department of Agriculture. Test the condition of an avocado by gentle pressure of the fingers. At the best edible stage, thin-skinned avocados yield readily to pressure; thick-skinned types yield only slightly. Hard or firm avocados of good quality may be ripened at home with no loss of flavor. Avocados are on the market all year.

Nibble on This Roquefort Cake

ROQUEFORT APPETIZER CAKE is a cocktail party treat.

For those way out in front when it comes to trying new foods, putting on the Ritz and getting fun out of doing it this Roquefort appetizer cake is the last word in things to nibble at the cocktail party.

Elaborate, dramatic and quite good to eat, here's the recipe. Do you belong to the go-go set? Whatever your answer, take a nibble.

ROQUEFORT APPETIZER CAKE
(Serves 10 to 12)

2 packages pie crust mix
1 3-ounce package Roquefort cheese,

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

crumbled (1/2 cup firmly packed or 3/4 cup crumbled)
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1/4 cup chopped pecans
1/4 cup chopped pitted black olives
Heavy cream
1 cup ground smoked ham
1/4 cup crushed pineapple
1/4 cup chopped celery
Mayonnaise

Follow pie crust package directions; then roll out pastry on lightly floured board and cut into four 8-inch rounds. Place on ungreased cookie sheets and prick well with fork. Bake in a preheated (425-degree) oven 10-12 minutes or until golden. Let cool. In the meantime, combine Roquefort, cream cheese, pecans and olives with enough mayonnaise so that consistency is spreadable. Use each filling for spreading on two rounds. Stack rounds starting with Roquefort filling and ending with Roquefort filling. Decorate with black olive halves. Serve with assorted relishes.

Predicts Fast Price Rises Just Ahead

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Prices may rise faster in the weeks and months just ahead. And you can blame everything from the weather to the booming economy itself.

People are expected to have still more money to spend. But the amount of available goods to spend it on may increase at a slower rate for awhile. And when the gain in demand tops the advance in supply, it usually means price rises.

The weather isn't helping just now. At the grocery store, especially in the East, prices of fruits and vegetables may rise sharply as the result of unusually bad weather in Florida and other centers that furnish winter produce. The supply of these foods already has been cut. And it's a long time until spring growing weather reaches other regions.

The weather also has been cutting back some factory output here and there in the nation. Reduced production, and especially the snarled transportation, adds to upward pressure on prices of some factory goods and raw materials.

But for the long run, the economy itself gets most of the blame. It seems that it's fast becoming taut. This means that output of many items is nearing the upward limit of present productive capacity. Skilled manpower also is short in some industries and some regions.

All this puts pressure on prices. Until recently, production could be increased as consumer and business spending demanded because of idle facilities and manpower. But at the moment production can't expand as fast as spending is growing, because there's little surplus capacity and fewer skilled workers available.

With more dollars than goods, prices are likely to rise.

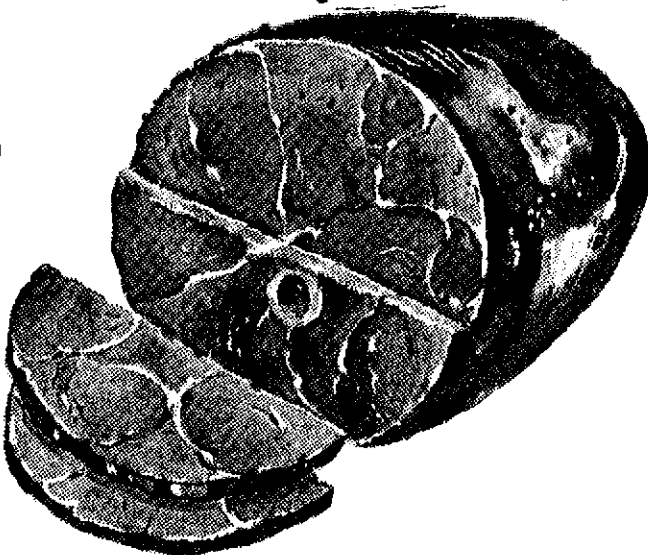

While the nation's supply of money has been growing at a fast clip, demand for credit has been growing even faster. Bank loans to business have risen sharply, and the demand still is pressing. Consumer credit also continues to grow, along with the increase in personal incomes.

All this puts pressure on prices. Washington hopes to hold down the yen to charge more for goods and services through voluntary controls and appeals to observe the public interest. And, so far at least, Washington officially refused to go along with those businessmen and bankers who think that the economy is becoming too taut for mild restraints to keep prices from doing what comes naturally — going still higher.

New Proposal Outshines Great Society

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gingerly plumed on the doorstep of Congress a monumental share of the wealth of the nation's economy in his own "Great Society" vision — and quietly tipped away.

So vast is the 210-page proposal to reshape the American economy that Johnson reportedly shed like a Texas stallion from linking himself to it at a time he seeks $13 billion to press the war in Viet Nam.

"I think the White House was quite alarmed," said Joseph A. Beirne, a member of a left-noted presidential commission that dropped the blockbuster report in Johnson's lap.

Just one of some 75 major proposals in the report — a guaranteed minimum annual income for every American family — would cost up to $20 billion a year alone.

Beirne, president of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America, is one of five members of the 14-member commission which the nation should put the same urgent priority on a massive social and economic revolution that it does on fighting Communists in Viet Nam.

The United States can afford both, he said.

Beirne, miffed at the way the White House suddenly issued the report without a word of endorsement, said he believed

Johnson — or his advisers — feared it would give further ammunition to Republican efforts to cut back "Great Society" programs because of the war.

Although the White House didn't send a single copy of the report to key members of Congress — a usual courtesy — early reaction confirmed this fear. "I think the Congress will take a close look before they expand any 'Great Society' programs," said Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, top Republican on the House Labor Committee which will consider the huge economic proposal.

"Frankly, I think we should be spending more time worrying about our boys in Viet Nam," said Ayres.

But Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., cautiously endorsed the guaranteed minimum income idea.

Not even Perkins, No. 2 Democrat on the Labor Committee, or Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., got a copy of the huge economic report.

Nor, in issuing the report of the National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress, was there any of the usual White House fanfare accompanying a major document — no picture posing of the President with the commission, no television cameras — and little explanation.

"They just handed us this massive report and then asked if we had any questions," blinked one bemused veteran White House reporter.

Beirne said he thought the White House was "alarmed" both by the vast scope of the report in charting a 10-year economic plan, and by the numerous recommendations of the labor, big business, civil rights and university representatives on the blue-ribbon panel.

The commission's recommendations on how the nation can "invent the future" are too numerous to list in full, but a few are:

Two years of free college education for every youngster, a national council to "monitor" American economic and social goals a federal computer system to match men and jobs in the nation's rapidly changing

Special Seville Duckling Recipe

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"Cena En Honor de los Escritores de Alimentacion de Estados Unidos y Canada" — that means a banquet given in honor of us traveling food writers of the United States and Canada. There were two.

Among other distinguished guests were the Consul General of the United States, Boston-born Charles Paul Nolan and Mrs. Nolan. Mrs. Nolan gave us her favorite Andalusian recipe for fried shrimp.

GAMBAS FRITAS

1 pound raw shrimp, shelled and deveined
4 teaspoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
9 teaspoons carbonated water

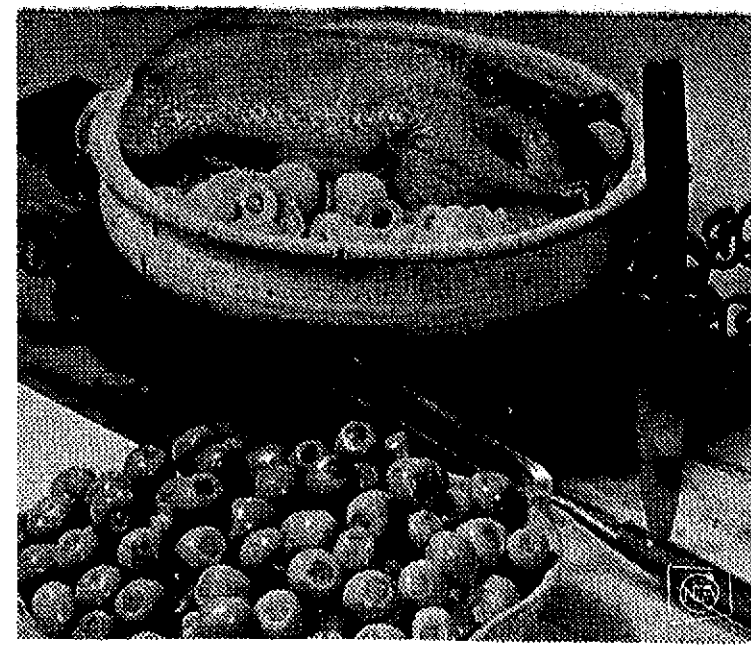

Few drops of vinegar

Make a batter of the flour, salt, carbonated water and vinegar. Dip shrimp into batter, then fry in deep oil, or vegetable oil until light golden brown. Serve immediately with sherry.

We asked Senor Luis de Soto, one of our hosts, for an authentic Seville duck recipe.

PATO A LA SEVILLANA (Makes 4 servings)

5 pound duckling
¼ cup flour
½ pound small white onions
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 medium orange, peeled and sliced
1 jar (4 ½ ounces) pimento-stuffed olives, drained and sliced (1 cup)

PATO A LA SEVILLANA is a dinner delight.

1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
1 ½ cups duck stock*
½ cup dry sherry
1 or 2 bay leaves
¼ teaspoon rosemary leaves
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Hot cooked rice
Orange slices and whole pimento-stuffed olives

Dredge duckling with flour; place on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven 1 hour. Meanwhile, combine onion and remaining ingredients, except rice, in saucepan. Bring to boil; boil 15 minutes. Remove duckling from pan; drain off fat. Return duckling to pan without rack. Add tomato mixture. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 1 hour or until duckling and onions are tender. Remove duckling and onions to platter; keep warm. Skim fat from sauce, heat to boiling and serve with duckling and rice. Garnish with additional orange slices and olives, if desired.

*To Prepare Duck Stock: Combine duckling giblets and neck with 1 ½ cups water and ¼ teaspoon salt in saucepan. Cover, bring to a boil and simmer 1 hour, strain.

labor market, completely federalizing the present federal-state employment service, and massive federal aid to fight air and water pollution, improve transportation and housing.

"There is enough in this program for 10 years of work if the nation will tackle it," said Beirne, but "they're all tough political decisions."

LBJ Might Again Stop the Bombings

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — A year after he ordered the first air strike against North Viet Nam, President Johnson is reported convinced that the limited bombings are an essential element of his strategy for defeating Communist efforts to conquer South Viet Nam.

He may suspend the bombing again in coming months as he did during his peace offensive after Christmas. He may vary the intensity of attacks. But his biggest problem will be to keep the bombing within the bounds which he has set.

The President is under two opposing pressures on this phase of his Vietnamese war strategy.

Many foreign governments and critics of his Vietnamese policy in Congress are basically opposed to the bombing and made this clear with their appeals last month to continue the suspension indefinitely.

Other congressional and military advocates of intensified war would like to see the attacks increased to include Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital, and the port of Haiphong.

Johnson and his top advisers, however, are said to believe that while direct action against North Viet Nam is vital for several reasons, a radical escalation of the attacks at this point to include Hanoi and Haiphong would carry risks outweighing the possible benefits.

Their views are based on basic U.S. policy aims which do not presently call for the destruction of North Viet Nam as a Communist state, and on the possible reactions of Red China and the Soviet Union. It is widely believed among authorities here that Red China or the Soviet Union, perhaps both, would intervene directly in the Southeast Asian conflict if the destruction of North Viet Nam appeared imminent. The reasons advanced here for continuing the bombing are both military and diplomatic:

1. Attacks on military bases, supply centers, and supply lines in the North reduce the ability of North Viet Nam to send men and arms to the Communist forces fighting in the South, officials say. No one now argues that this is a decisive contribution to the U.S. and Allied operations in the South but they do argue that it is an important contribution to the ultimate defeat of the Red ground forces.

2. The bombing of the North makes North Viet Nam feel the weight of war and in this broad sense is a retaliatory action for North Viet Nam's assistance to the Communist forces in the south. At some critical time in the future it could help to persuade the leaders in Hanoi that they should give up their attempt to take over the South at least to the extent of moving the conflict from the battlefield to the conference table.

Tall Mountains
World's tallest mountains, if measured from base to peak, are Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea on the island of Hawaii. These peaks rise more than 30,000 feet from the sea bottom and were built up, inch by inch, by volcanic action through the ages.

TEEN DREAM — It was a dream come true for Lynell Rave Bass of Virginia Beach, Va. She not only won the title of "Miss American Teen-Ager" in a contest at New Jersey's Palisades Amusement Park, but also a role as a hospital aide in a segment of television's Dr. Kildare.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There was not much of a point to be made in Monday night's NBC special, "Hello Dolly, Round the World," but it didn't matter. It was an entertaining theatrical hodge-podge, beautifully filmed, and pulled together by the vitality and charm of Mary Martin, narrator and central figure.

There were delightful bits and pieces of "Hello, Dolly," the smash Broadway musical lather has been an international hit.

There were glimpses of the backstage life of the touring company. We saw hectic preparations for opening night in Tokyo. And there was Miss Martin, singing for a curtain speech "Hello Tokyo" in Japanese.

Some stunning shots of Tokyo by night and of the lovely Japanese countryside followed, plus a charming report of Miss Martin's visit to an orphanage.

The scene shifted abruptly to Viet Nam, next stop for the 21-member troupe. For a few minutes the program abandoned its rich color for sober black-and-white. The final portion of the program reminded one of Bob Hope's entertainment tour, with crowds of young soldiers, many of them in blue hospital pajamas, listening intently to the performance from makeshift stages — in the open or in a converted hangar.

In addition to everything else, it was a lovely long plug for the show which, with various companies of players, is still filling theaters all over the place.

Holy Nieces, as Robin the boy wonder might say, "Batman," in its first appearance on the national ratings lists managed to crash — pow — kabam — into the television's elite circle, the top 10.

The two-a-week ABC series wound up in the eighth and ninth spots in the report released Monday by the A. C. Nielsen Co. in its estimates of audience sizes for the two weeks ending Jan. 21.

Most popular show of the period was Bob Hope's Christmas show on NBC, followed by the same network's "Bonanza." Third was CBS' "Andy Griffith Show." Others in the top 10 were ABC's "Bewitched," CBS' "The Lucy Show," "Gomer Pyle," "Red Skelton Show" and "Beverly Hillsbillies."

Inquiry Into War Course Continues

By JAC KBELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A

Senate inquiry into Asian policies swings back into action today with Sen. J.W. Fulbright challenging the administration to make a case for its course in Viet Nam.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which Fulbright heads, called retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin for testimony. Gavin has said that his position is misinterpreted by those who think he favors withdrawal of U. S. forces to a few enclaves along the coast of South Viet Nam.

He said last week he is in favor of "staying where we are" by holding "areas where we have an air base, a seaport and troops." He said he thinks bombing of North Viet Nam "had to be resumed" but he wants the United States to "slow down, back up and see where we are."

Fulbright, who opposed the resumption of North Viet Nam bombings, said in an interview that if the administration has a good case for its strategy the committee wants to give it "an opportunity to clear the air."

The Arkansas Democrat said he thinks the administration is being "much too defensive" in its attitude toward the committee's inquiry. He was surprised, he said, that officials seemed reluctant to appear.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, declined to appear because, they said, of security reasons.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said in a separate interview he will press for committee action on a resolution rescinding a 1964 congressional declaration approving any steps Johnson finds it necessary to take to combat Communist aggression in Viet Nam.

Despite wide-ranging criticism of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, however, Morse's proposal has found little support.

Fulbright complained that the administration is making too many assumptions on Viet Nam "that reasonable people may question." He added he is unclear about the over-all American objective in Asia, particularly long-range future policy toward China.

The committee is waiting for Johnson to decide if he wants any administration officials to testify — and which ones — before current hearings recess Thursday for the Lincoln Day holiday.

Serve Spanish Paella Son Vida

by Gaynor Maddox, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Paella is Spain's gastronomic national anthem. We think one of the greatest recipes is that of chef Jose Luis Iturriga at Son Vida in Mallorca, off the Valencian coast.

PAELLA SON VIDA
(Sufficient for 4 persons)
1 small chicken, cut into eight pieces,
1/4 pound (about) lean pork, diced
1/4 pound (about) lean veal, diced
Olive oil
1 clove garlic, well-chopped
2 ripe tomatoes, peeled and chopped
1/2 cup shelled peas
4 sliced artichokes
4 1/2 cups hot chicken stock
Salt
1/4 teaspoon saffron, dissolved in chicken stock

16 clams in shell or 1 8-ounce can minced clams and juice
12 medium shrimp, shelled
2 cups uncooked rice and deveined

Use a paellera (a low frying pan without a handle or, if not available, a 12-inch iron frying pan.)

Saute the chicken, pork and veal in oil over high heat until golden brown (about 5 minutes). Add garlic and tomatoes. Stir to blend, then add peas and artichokes. Add rice. Add boiling hot chicken stock with saffron. Salt lightly. Saute shrimp lightly in oil and push to bottom of paellera.

If clams in shell are used, remove upper half of shells. If minced clams are used, add with the chicken stock.

PAELLA SON VIDA is served in tranquility.

Place on top of rice. Cook over high heat for 5 to 10 minutes. Remove pan from top of stove and place in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 minutes until liquid is absorbed. Return to high heat on top of stove for 2 minutes. Remove and allow to stand 5 minutes. Serve in paellera.

Princess Tells About a New Life

EDITOR'S NOTE — In September 1964, Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark left her northern homeland to marry King Constantine II and become Greece's queen. In her first interview as queen, she tells an AP correspondent about her new life.

By PHILLIP DOPOULOS
ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The world's only teen-age queen, a native of the chill north, has settled happily into her adopted Mediterranean kingdom and says she wants a large family. Queen Anne-Marie, wife of King Constantine II of Greece, will turn 20 next August. "I feel completely at home," the former Danish princess said in her first interview since her marriage to the king brought her to Greece 17 months ago. "Though Denmark is greener, Greece has its beauty, sun and warmth."

Anne-Marie speaks English, French and Danish and is striving to learn Greek.

"I take lessons almost every afternoon now," she said. "It is difficult and I understand more than I can speak. At home the king and I speak to each other in English."

She is sure 6-month-old Crown Princess Alexia will have no trouble with languages.

"Alexia will grow up to be a linguist," she said with pride. "The king and I understand more in Greek and English and I in Danish and English. We plan to educate our children in Greece. They are Greeks and they will be raised here."

"Oh, yes, we plan a large family. The king loves children. And it makes no difference to me whether our next child is a boy or a girl."

Under an amendment to the constitution adopted in 1952, a woman can become monarch.

Anne-Marie has visited orphanages and charitable organizations and has toured the provinces with her husband. She doubtless will do much of this in the future, but her chief role is as a housewife.

"The king and I don't have special tastes," she said. "I'll all menu served. The chef offers his suggestions and I either approve or disapprove of the menu."

"Occasionally we have Scandinavian smorgasbord, served with dark Danish bread called rugbrød."

"We spend our free hours talking, reading and listening to classical music. We take long walks through the gardens that surround Tatoi (where the royal family lives 15 miles north of Athens) and when possible we completely relax."

"I play with my daughter during the day. Alexia is well taken care of by two nurses, one Greek and the other English. "The king also plays with Alexia when he's home from the office." The Greeks have taken their queen to heart and show it every time she makes a public appearance. This is a two-way love affair which the queen reflects in her statements: "I am completely at home in Greece."

Easy Lenten Casserole

Noodles or rice are well-known underliners for creamed fish, but some breakfast cereals are surprisingly good, too. One of the better examples is shredded wheat. Besides being a nutritional bargain, this cereal, like other breakfast cereals, is inexpensive, convenient, adds flavor and texture.

When being served in this manner, you simply crush shredded wheat biscuits, either the round, oblong or spoon size, and stir the cereal into melted butter. Season with a little salt. Spread into a pan and cover with a piquant tuna or salmon sauce, such as deviled tuna casserole. The crisp cereal provides good contrast in texture.

Deviled Tuna Casserole
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
2 cans (7 ounces each) tuna, broken into chunks
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 1/2 cups crushed shredded wheat

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan. Add onion and cook until tender. Blend in flour and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add milk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in lemon juice, horseradish, and mustard. Fold in tuna, eggs, and pimiento. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in fry pan. Stir in shredded wheat; sprinkle with 1/4 teaspoon salt. Spread one-half of the shredded wheat over bottom of a 1 1/2-quart shallow casserole. Cover with tuna mixture. Sprinkle remaining shredded wheat around edges of casserole. Bake in hot oven (400°F) until hot and bubbly, about 15 minutes. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Make Tomorrow's Breakfast Today

Make tomorrow's pancake breakfast tonight? It's easy with most modern self-rising flours.

At one batter-making session, you can prepare enough pancake or waffle batter to last (under refrigeration), for three bountiful breakfasts. And the batter on the third day will be as light and lively as the day you made it!

The key is an unusual new phosphate leavening agent which most mills are incorporating in their already versatile self-rising flours. The new leavening agent, from the food laboratories of Monsanto Company, lies quietly until triggered by griddle heat, then it releases leavening power at just the right time to give pancakes and waffles full and flavorful lightness.

For Delicious Pancakes
2 cups of self-rising flour
2 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
1/4 cup cooking oil or melted butter, margarine, or shortening
Put eggs and sugar in a mixing bowl and beat lightly with rotary beater. Blend in milk and oil. Add flour. Blend together and beat until batter is nearly smooth. Do not overbeat. Usual batter for pancakes is cream-like in thickness.

Pour batter into a closable container, covered tightly to prevent surface drying, and place in refrigerator. Before each frying, stir to eliminate any separation.

Pour batter on hot griddle or frying pan (about 400°). Turn when bubbles rise to surface in center. Griddle is not hot enough if pancake is not brown when turned. It is too hot if bubbles at edge of pancake break before bubbles rise to surface at center. It's not necessary to add more milk or water while frying the pancakes.

ZUCCHINI CASSEROLE
(6 servings)
1 1/2 pounds (6 cups) zucchini, thinly sliced
1 cup boiling water
1/4 cup medium white sauce, regular or low-fat
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon onion, finely chopped
1 cup bread crumbs, fine dry
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Slowly add zucchini to boiling water. Boil 5 minutes. Drain. Make white sauce. Stir a little hot sauce into eggs, then gradually stir eggs into remaining sauce. Add salt. Worcestershire sauce, and onion. Combine zucchini and sauce. Place in a quart baking dish. Mix bread crumbs with fat if used. Sprinkle over zucchini mixture. Bake about 35 minutes.
